Social Security Bulletin

Annual Statistical Supplement, 1961

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE • Social Security Administration

The Social Security Bulletin is the official monthly publication of the Social Security Administration. Calendar-year data for each year 1939–48 were published in the Social Security Yearbooks and, beginning with data for 1949, in the Annual Statistical Supplements to the Bulletin. (The Supplements with data for each year 1949–54 were included in the September Bulletin, 1950–55; beginning with 1955 data, the Supplement is a separate publication.) Statements in Bulletin articles do not necessarily reflect official policies of the Social Security Administration.

The Bulletin is prepared in the Division of Research and Statistics, Social Security Administration, under the editorial supervision of Josephine Merican and Angela Murray, Associate Editors. Suggestions or comments concerning the Bulletin should be addressed to the Division of Research and Statistics.

DEFINITION OF TERMS

Social Insurance

The public programs that provide income maintenance and other benefits without a means test and financed in general through prepayment arrangements. The term includes the following programs administered directly by the Federal Government: old-age, survivors, and disability insurance; the railroad retirement program; and railroad unemployment and temporary disability insurance. It also covers unemployment insurance under the State laws (with the programs for Federal employees and for ex-servicemen included), workmen's compensation, State temporary disability insurance, and public employee retirement systems (Federal, State, and local). Because they are closely related in purpose, the Federal programs for veterans that provide pensions, compensation, annuities, and burial awards are combined with social insurance programs in some of the tables.

Public Aid

Those welfare programs that provide money payments and services to needy individuals and families, financed from general revenues. These are primarily the federally aided categorical public assistance programs and general assistance (administered by the States and localities without Federal funds). The term also covers work relief, emergency aid, and surplus food distribution to needy families.

Social Security Payments

Income-maintenance and other payments made under social insurance, veterans', and public aid programs.

Social Welfare

The term includes, in addition to all the programs listed above, certain health, medical, and other welfare services under public programs, public education, and low-rent public housing programs. The health and medical programs included are hospital and medical care under civilian and Department of Defense programs, maternal and child health services, services for crippled children, medical research, medical facilities construction and other public health activities. The "other" welfare services are vocational rehabilitation, institutional and other care, the school lunch program, and child welfare services.

[1] Before Jan. 1, 1960, data for gross national product are for 48 States and the District of Columbia and, beginning Jan. 1, 1960, include Alaska and Hawaii. Data for social welfare expenditures are for the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and the Territories and possessions, where applicable, and include some expenditures for persons living abroad.

[2] Program and administrative expenditures from Federal, State, and local public revenues (general and special), trust funds, and other expenditures under public law, including workmen's compensation and temporary disability insurance payments made through private companies and self-insurance. Includes costs of construction of schools, hospitals, and other facilities.

[3] Old-age, survivors, and disability insurance, railroad retirement, workmen's compensation, unemployment insurance and employment service, temporary disability insurance, and Federal, State, and local government retirement programs.

[4] Old-age assistance, medical assistance for the aged, aid to dependent children, aid to the blind, aid to the permanently and totally disabled, general assistance, work programs and other emergency aid programs, and value of surplus food distributed to needy families.

[5] Maternal and child health services, services for crippled children, medical research, other public health activities, medical-facilities construction, and hospitals and medical care under civilian and Department of Defense programs (including the military dependents' medical care program). Excludes expenditures for health and medical services under veterans' programs, social insurance programs, public assistance, education, and vocational rehabilitation; such expenditures have been included in data for total expenditures under these programs.

[6] Vocational rehabilitation, institutional care, child welfare, school lunch and milk programs, and public housing.

[7] Included in data for public aid above.

[8] Pensions and compensation, health and medical services, educational benefits, and welfare services.

Source: Data on gross national product (quarterly, adjusted) from Office of Business Economics, Department of Commerce. Data on social welfare expenditures taken or estimated from Treasury reports, Federal Budgets, and available reports of administrative agencies. For greater detail, see the article on social welfare expenditures appearing annually in the Social Security Bulletin (October or November).

[1] Before 1960, data represent the 48 States and the District of Columbia, except where otherwise noted.

[2] Includes pay of Federal civilian and military personnel in all areas.

[3] Earnings under work relief programs are included under "public assistance" and excluded from wage and salary disbursements.

[4] Benefits shown in table 7 plus (1) refunds of employee contributions for State and local government and for Federal civil-service and other contributory retirement programs; (2) court-awarded benefits for work injuries sustained by railroad, maritime, and other workers under Federal employer liability acts; and (3) medical and hospital payments made under workmen's compensation and temporary disability insurance laws.

[5] Payments to recipients of old-age assistance, medical assistance for the aged, aid to dependent children, aid to the blind, aid to the permanently and totally disabled, and general assistance. For 1935 and 1940, public assistance also includes direct relief, such as value of surplus food stamps, under federally aided programs. Excludes vendor payments for medical care.

[6] Government life insurance payments, veterans' adjusted compensation benefits (World War I bonus), mustering-out pay and terminal-leave benefits to discharged servicemen, subsistence allowances to veterans at school, Government transfer payments not included elsewhere, business transfer payments, employer contributions to private pension and welfare funds, pay of military reservists, and miscellaneous items defined as "other labor income" by Department of Commerce.

[1] Before 1960, data represent the 48 States and the District of Columbia, except as otherwise noted. Each worker classified by primary activity.

[2] Data relate to the Census survey week (for 1954, the week including the 8th of the month; for 1955-61, the week including the 12th), except that for State and local government retirement, unemployment insurance, and temporary disability insurance programs data relate to the week ending nearest the 15th.

[3] Beginning 1954, includes those under both a State or local government retirement system and old-age, survivors, and disability insurance (about 2.8 million in December 1961). Excludes those eligible for coverage on an elective basis but not actually covered (about 2.7 million in December 1961—chiefly employees of State and local governments with their own retirement systems). Also excludes members of Armed Forces and railroad employees shown below. For complete data on old-age, survivors, and disability insurance coverage, see table 19.

[4] Jointly covered under old-age, survivors, and disability insurance, beginning November 1951.

[5] Includes Federal employees in all areas. Excludes State and local government employees covered by both old-age, survivors, and disability insurance and their own retirement program (counted under old-age, survivors, and disability insurance above, beginning 1954).

[6] State, railroad, and, beginning 1955, Federal employee programs; beginning 1949, includes State and local government employees covered by State unemployment insurance. Excludes members of Armed Forces.

[7] State and railroad programs. Excludes government employees covered by sick-leave provisions.

[8] Members are covered under old-age, survivors, and disability insurance, beginning January 1957, and under the Ex-Servicemen's Unemployment Compensation Act, beginning November 1958 (in addition to their entitlement to various military benefits).

[1] Before 1960, data are for the 48 States and the District of Columbia, except as otherwise noted. Earnings and payroll data are gross, before deduction of social insurance contributions. Data for 1961 preliminary.

[2] Includes earnings of self-employed. Quarterly data estimated by Social Security Administration, not seasonally adjusted.

[3] Paid in cash and in kind. Includes pay of Federal personnel (civilian and military) in all areas. Quarterly data estimated by Social Security Administration, not seasonally adjusted.

[4] Adjusted for duplication of payrolls covered by both old-age, survivors, and disability insurance and State and local government retirement systems beginning 1953.

[5] Taxable plus estimated nontaxable wages and salaries in employments covered by the programs. (For taxable earnings under old-age, survivors, and disability insurance, see table 27.)

[6] Beginning 1955, annual data include and quarterly data exclude wages and salaries of agricultural labor, reported only on annual basis; beginning 1957, includes the Armed Forces in all areas.

[7] Includes a small amount of taxable wages for Alaska and Hawaii.

[8] Includes Alaska and Hawaii; excludes voluntary contributions and service credits.

[9] Quarterly data not available.

[10] Beginning 1955, includes payroll of Federal, State, and local government employees except for the Armed Forces (covered under the Ex-Servicemen's Unemployment Compensation Act of 1958). Excludes Puerto Rico.

[11] Payrolls of employers insuring with private companies or State funds or self-insured, and Federal programs; excludes railroads (covered by Employer's Liability Act).

[12] Excludes earnings under work relief programs.

Source: Annual data on total earnings and wages and salary disbursements from Office of Business Economics, Department of Commerce; payrolls covered by State and local government retirement programs and by workmen's compensation programs estimated by the Social Security Administration; data for other programs based on reports of administrative agencies.

[1] Expenditures from Federal, State, and local revenues (general and special) and trust funds and other expenditures under public law; includes capital outlay and administrative expenditures, unless otherwise noted. Includes some expenditures and payments outside the United States. Breakdowns of expenditures by source of funds (Federal or State and local) and type of benefit (cash or medical) appear annually in an article on social welfare expenditures, in the October or November Social Security Bulletin.

[2] Excludes net payments in lieu of benefits (transfers) under the financial interchange with the railroad retirement system.

[3] Excludes refunds of employee contributions to those leaving the service; includes payments to retired military personnel and survivors. Data for administrative expenses not available for Federal noncontributory programs.

[4] Includes unemployment compensation for Federal employees, for ex-servicemen, and for veterans under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 and the Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1952 and payments under the temporary extended unemployment insurance programs.

[5] Cash and medical benefits, including payments under private plans where applicable, in the 4 States with programs. Includes State costs of administering State plans and supervising private plans; data for administrative expenditures of private plans underwritten by private insurance companies or self-insured not available.

[6] Cash and medical benefits paid under Federal workmen's compensation laws and under State laws by private insurance companies, by State funds, and by self-insurers. Excludes administrative costs of State agencies before 1949–50 and all administrative costs of private insurance companies and self-insurers. Beginning 1959–60, includes data for Alaska and Hawaii.

[7] Includes vendor payments—payments made directly to suppliers of medical care and services on behalf of assistance recipients. Total includes but program data by category, below, exclude administrative expenditures of the Bureau of Family Services.

[8] Work program earnings, other emergency aid programs, and the value of surplus food distributed to needy families.

[9] Excludes expenditures (1) for domiciliary care in institutions other than mental or tuberculosis (included under institutional care); (2) for health and medical services provided in connection with State temporary disability insurance, workmen's compensation, public assistance, vocational rehabilitation, and veterans' programs (included in total expenditure for these programs); and (3) those made directly for international health activities and for certain subordinate medical programs such as those of the Bureau of Narcotics, the Bureau of Mines, the National Park Service, and the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

[10] Services for crippled children and maternal and child health services.

[11] Medical research of the U.S. Public Health Services, the Food and Drug Administration, the Atomic Energy Commission, the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, and the Department of Defense.

[12] Excludes expenditures for water supply, sanitation services, and sewage disposal but includes regulatory and administrative costs of these services; includes expenditures for medical equipment and supplies for civil defense.

[13] Expenditures for homes for dependent or neglected children and for adults other than veterans and the value of surplus food for nonprofit institutions.

[14] Cash apportionment and the value of commodities purchased and distributed under the National School Lunch Act, the value of surplus commodities distributed under other agricultural programs, and, beginning 1954–55, the special school milk program (nongovernment funds are also available for the program from private organizations and from payments by parents; in 1960–61, parents' payments totaled $595 million).

[15] Includes foster-care payments and payments for professional and facilitating services; excludes expenditures of public institutions and public day-care centers, capital expenditures by courts and by youth authorities, payments from parents and relatives, and direct appropriations by State legislatures to voluntary agencies and institutions.

[16] Excludes Federal bonus payments and expenditures from veterans' life insurance trust funds; includes State bonus and other payments and services.

[17] Includes burial awards and subsistence payments to disabled veterans undergoing training.

[18] Vocational rehabilitation, specially adapted homes and automobiles for disabled veterans, counseling, beneficiaries' travel, loan guarantees, and domiciliary care.

[19] Represents office of Education administrative costs, training of Federal personnel, and "grants" as reported in the summary table prepared by the Federal Education Programs Branch, Office of Education, except (1) those covered under other social welfare programs such as veterans' programs, and (2) the value of surplus property. Data for 1959–60 and 1960–61 include training grants, basic research, and revenue from public lands for education not available in earlier years.

[20] Federal and State subsidies (and administrative costs) for low-cost housing.

Source: Data taken or estimated from Treasury reports, Federal Budgets, and available reports of Federal, State, and local administrative agencies.

[1] Partly estimated; for some programs, 1961 data are preliminary.
[2] Includes benefits to dependents (spouses and children) where applicable.
[3] Excludes refunds of contributions to employees who leave service.
[4] Included under retirement are a significant amount and number of disability payments for 1940 and a small but unknown amount and number of disability and survivor payments for 1945 and 1950.
[5] Retirement data are for veterans of the Civil War, the Indian Wars, the Spanish-American War, the Boxer Rebellion, and the Philippine Insurrection; beginning October 1951, includes all service pensions. Disability data include pensions and compensation, and subsistence payments to disabled veterans undergoing training. Lump sums are for burial of deceased veterans.
[6] Excludes payments for medical care.
[7] Benefits payable in California, New Jersey, New York, and Rhode Island. Includes maternity data for Rhode Island and private-plan beneficiaries in California and New York; data for private-plan beneficiaries in New Jersey not available.
[8] Includes maternity data.
[9] Small but unknown amount of lump-sum death payments included with monthly survivor payments.
[10] Includes payments made by the States as agents of the Federal Government under the Federal employees' unemployment compensation program and under the Ex-Servicemen's Compensation Act of 1958 and payments under the temporary extended unemployment insurance programs; beginning 1961, includes program in Puerto Rico.

[1] Calculated by dividing current-dollar amounts by the consumer price index (1957–59=100, converted to December 1961 base). Dollar amounts for 1961 rounded to nearest 5 cents.

[2] Data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

[3] Data reflect, for the worker retiring in 1940 with the average primary benefit then payable, the subsequent changes in his benefit resulting from legislative liberalizations.

[4] A case may represent a family group or a single person. The average number of persons per case in 1961 is estimated to be 2.6; it may have changed significantly since 1940.

[5] Based on November benefit data, adjusted to November consumer price index (101.0), because December data for old-age, survivors, and disability insurance are not available.

[11] Under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 (terminated July 1949), and the Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1952 (terminated January 1960). Amount (but not number) includes self-employment allowances—for 1945, $11,675,000 to 12,100 veterans (average monthly number); for 1950, $1,606,000 to 1,500 veterans; and a negligible amount thereafter.

[12] For old-age, survivors, and disability insurance, average monthly number; for the railroad retirement program, public employee retirement systems and the veterans' programs, number on rolls June 30; for State unemployment and temporary disability insurance and for veterans' unemployment allowances, average weekly number; for railroad unemployment and temporary disability insurance, average number during 14-day registration period. Data for workmen's compensation not available.

[13] For Federal programs under the Uniformed Services Contingency Option Act of 1953 and for State and local government retirement systems, number represents families.

[1] Before 1940, represents operations of old-age reserve account.

[2] Through June 1940 equals appropriations transferred; from July 1940 to Dec. 1950 equals taxes collected; beginning 1951, equals amounts appropriated (estimated tax collections subsequently adjusted). Beginning May 1951, includes deposits by States under voluntary coverage agreements. For 1947–51, includes appropriations from general funds to meet costs of benefits with respect to certain World War II veterans. Beginning 1952, includes deductions for refunds of estimated amount of employee tax overpayment.

[3] Beginning 1954, includes interest transactions under financial interchange between old-age, survivors, and disability system and railroad retirement account.

[4] Beginning 1958, includes interest transactions on reimbursed disability insurance administrative expenses.

[5] Beginning 1957, subject to subsequent adjustment (with interest) between old-age and survivors insurance and disability insurance trust funds.

[6] Face value of special obligations plus book value of public marketable obligations of the U.S. Treasury.

[7] Beginning 1959, includes outstanding loans to railroad unemployment insurance account in unemployment trust fund.

[8] For 1948, includes transfer of Comptroller of the Currency retirement fund; beginning 1949, includes assets and transactions of the Alaska Railroad and Canal Zone retirement funds.

[9] Includes appropriations from general funds and contributions of District of Columbia and Government corporations.

[10] Excludes $35 million redemption not processed until Jan. 2, 1956.

[11] Beginning 1949, data not comparable with those for earlier years because of change in Treasury source used. Noncomparability results from following differences in accounting methods: present source records interest on ledger (accrual) basis, credits deposits and charges withdrawals as dated, and includes uncleared deposits in total assets; earlier source records interest as deposited, items in transit as of date received, and excludes uncleared deposits from total assets. Beginning 1949, investments plus cash are less than total assets by amount of in-transit items at end of each period.

[12] Excludes transactions among the 52 State accounts and the 3 Federal accounts; excludes transactions between the railroad unemployment insurance account and the railroad unemployment administration fund after 1957 (see footnote 15). Total receipts and expenditures exclude, but State expenditures and railroad receipts include, nonrepayable transfers totaling $107 million between 1939 and 1947 from the State accounts to the railroad account under sec. 13 of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.

[13] Includes $3 million in 1957 and in 1958 transferred for administration from Federal unemployment account and reimbursed in 1958. Insignificant subsequent reimbursements in 1959, 1960, and 1961 not shown.

[14] From 1937 through 1953, represents 51 "State" accounts only; Federal unemployment account was activated Dec. 1954; employment security administration account, in Sept. 1960; an account for Puerto Rico, Dec. 1960; and Federal extended compensation account, Apr. 1961.

[15] From 1939 through 1957, includes railroad unemployment insurance account only. Railroad unemployment insurance administration fund incorporated in trust fund Sept. 1958 under P.L. 85–927. Beginning 1959, deposits include loans from railroad retirement account (see footnote 7) and benefits include repayments (interest on repayments is subtracted from total interest). Beginning Apr. 1961, includes temporary extended railroad unemployment insurance account.

[16] Includes $15 million advanced from general funds in 1939, repaid in 1940.

[17] Beginning 1960, with creation of employment security administration account under P.L. 86–778.

[18] Less than $0.5 million.

[19] Represents actual benefit payments, 1937–48. Beginning 1949, represents withdrawals by disbursing officers for benefit payments.

[20] Includes $2 million transferred to railroad unemployment insurance administration fund (see footnote 15).

[5] Includes dependents' allowances for States that provide such benefits.

[6] Based on average total weekly wage in current year.

[7] Beginning 1960, based on first payments for 12-month period ended June 30; for earlier years, data based on 12-month period ended Sept. 30.

[8] Contributions, penalties, and interest from employers, and contributions from employees in the States that taxed workers (Alabama, Alaska, and New Jersey in 1961). Adjusted for refunds of contributions and for dishonored contribution checks. Excludes State and local government employees covered on a reimbursable basis.

[9] Adjusted for voided benefit checks. Includes payments made under temporary extended unemployment insurance provisions.

[10] Sum of balances in State clearing accounts, benefit-payment accounts, and State accounts in Federal unemployment trust fund.

[11] Standard contribution rate for most States, 2.7 percent. Excludes State and local jurisdictions covering State and local government employees on a reimbursable basis.

[12] For January 1956–June 1959, data include Federal employees' unemployment compensation program; separate data not available.

[13] Represents data on a "per employer" basis, not comparable with data for other States.

DEFINITION OF TERMS

Actuarial Reduction

Reduction of monthly benefits payable to old-age, aged wife, and husband beneficiaries who become entitled to benefits when aged 62–64. The reduction is applicable for the entire period of entitlement. Benefits payable to these persons are actuarially reduced for each month before attainment of age 65 for which a benefit is drawn (1) for an old-age (retired-worker) beneficiary, by 5/9 of 1 percent and (2) for a wife beneficiary without a child beneficiary in her care or for a husband beneficiary, by 25/36 of 1 percent.

Beneficiary

A person who, whether or not he is actually receiving benefit payments, has been awarded monthly benefits on the basis of his own or another's earnings record. When he is actually receiving benefits, the benefits are said to be in current-payment status. For types of beneficiary, see Benefit Types below.

Payee.—A person designated to receive the benefit checks on behalf of a beneficiary. Generally the payee and the beneficiary is the same person, but in many cases another person must be designated when, for example, the beneficiary—child or adult—is mentally or physically incapable of managing his benefit payment.

Benefit Payments

Actuarial reduction.—See above.

Adjust.—To increase or decrease monthly benefits to effect a recomputation, to correct errors of underpayment or overpayment, or for other reasons.

Award.—A favorable determination on an application for monthly benefits or a lump-sum death payment. Awards include conversions of disability benefits to old-age benefits on attainment of age 65.

Benefits paid.—Disbursements of benefit checks by the Treasury Department—total amount disbursed in specified period.

Conversion of disability benefits to old-age benefits.—Benefits payable to disability beneficiaries are automatically converted to old-age insurance benefits when the beneficiary reaches age 65.

In current-payment status.—Benefit payments being made at a given time with no deductions or with deductions amounting to less than a month's benefit—that is, the benefits actually being received.

Maximum family benefit.—A legally defined amount (varying with the primary insurance amount) that determines the maximum monthly amount that can be paid on a worker's earnings record. Whenever the total of the individual monthly benefits payable to all the beneficiaries entitled on one earnings record exceeds the maximum, each benefit, except the worker's old-age insurance or disability insurance benefit, is proportionately reduced to bring the total within the maximum.

Minimum benefit.—The lowest monthly benefit payable under the law to a disabled worker, a worker who becomes entitled to benefits at age 65 or later, and to a sole survivor. Currently the minimum benefit is $40. (A benefit smaller than $40 may be payable to beneficiaries in other categories.)

Reinstate.—To place a beneficiary who is not actually receiving benefits in current-payment status when the causes of suspension of benefits have been removed.

Starting date.—December 31 of either 1936 or 1950; earnings after the applicable starting date are considered for inclusion in the computation of the average monthly wage.

Terminate.—To end the entitlement to a benefit.

Type of claim.—An indication of (1) whether a benefit is payable on the basis of the earnings record of a retired, deceased, or disabled worker, (2) whether a benefit is actuarially reduced or not, (3) whether a child beneficiary is under age 18 or disabled and aged 18 or over.

Benefit Types

Aged wife's benefit.—Wife's benefit payable to (1) a wife aged 65 or over, whether or not she has one or more child beneficiaries in her care, or (2) a wife aged 62–64 with no child beneficiary in her care.

Auxiliary benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a dependent of a retired or disabled worker, or to a survivor of a deceased worker (same as secondary benefit).

Child's benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a child of a retired or disabled worker, or of a deceased worker who died fully or currently insured, if the child is under age 18 or is a dependent disabled person aged 18 or over whose disability began before age 18.

Disability insurance benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a disabled worker under age 65 insured for disability. For months before November 1960, disability benefits were limited to disabled workers aged 50–64.

Disabled child.—A disabled person aged 18 or over—a dependent son or daughter of a retired, deceased, or disabled worker—whose disability began before age 18.

Divorced wife's benefit.—A mother's benefit payable to a former wife (divorced) of a deceased worker with one or more entitled children of the worker (who are also her children) in her care.

Family benefit.—The sum of the individual monthly benefits payable to all the beneficiaries entitled on the basis of a single earnings record.

Husband's benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to the aged dependent husband of a fully and currently insured retired or disabled worker.

Individual benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to an individual beneficiary.

Life benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a retired worker and his dependents.

Lump-sum death benefit.—A lump sum payable on the death of a fully or currently insured worker to his surviving spouse or to the persons paying his burial expenses.

Lump-sum payment.—A lump-sum death benefit.

Lump-sum payments under 1935 Act.—A lump sum, amounting to 3½ percent of the worker's taxable earnings, payable on the death of the worker before 1940 or on the worker's attainment of age 65 before August 10, 1939.

Monthly benefit.—A benefit payable each month.

Mother's benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a widow or the divorced wife of a deceased worker who died fully or currently insured, with 1 or more entitled children of the worker in her care.

Nondisabled child.—A child beneficiary under age 18, whether or not disabled.

Old-age benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a permanently insured retired worker.

Parent's benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to an aged dependent parent of a deceased worker who died fully insured.

Primary insurance amount.—The amount, related to the worker's average monthly wage, that would be payable to a retired worker who began to get benefits at age 65 or to a disabled worker. It is also the amount used as a base for computing all benefits payable on the basis of an individual's earnings record.

Secondary benefit.—See Auxiliary benefit.

Supplementary benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a dependent of a retired or disabled worker. The term does not include benefits to survivors of deceased workers.

Survivor benefit.—A benefit payable to a survivor of a deceased worker.

Widow's benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a widow (aged 62 or over) of a deceased worker who died fully insured.

Widowed mother's benefit.—A mother's benefit payable to a widow of a deceased worker with one or more entitled children of the worker in her care.

Widower's benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a dependent widower (aged 62 or over) of a deceased worker who died fully and currently insured.

Wife's benefit.—A monthly benefit payable to a wife of a retired or disabled worker. See Aged wife's benefit and Young wife's benefit.

Young wife's benefit.—A wife's benefit payable to a wife under age 65 with 1 or more child beneficiaries in her care.

Benefits Withheld

Benefit payments suspended until the conditions causing deductions are known to have ended. Benefits are withheld as provided under sections 203, 222, and 225 of the Social Security Act except that when the benefit is withheld because the payee is not determined, the payments are accrued pending determination of guardian or appropriate payee. Reasons for withholding benefits include (1) covered or noncovered employment, giving rise to earnings that exceed the amounts allowable by law, of a beneficiary under age 72 or an old-age beneficiary under age 72 on whose earnings the benefit is based, (2) failure of a young wife or mother beneficiary to have an entitled child in her care, (3) refusal of a disabled person to accept rehabilitation services, (4) pending determination of continuing disability, (5) payee not determined, and (6) administrative reasons.

Administrative reasons.—Administrative reasons for withholding benefits include:

(a) refusal of beneficiary to accept checks because of patriotic, political, religious, or other reasons;
(b) return of check unclaimed with no comment;
(c) beneficiary's whereabouts unknown;
(d) beneficiary's residence in Iron Curtain country;
(e) deportation under certain provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act;
(f) conviction for subversive activities under chapters 37, 105, or 107 of title 18 of the United States Code or sections 4, 112, or 113 of the Internal Security Act of 1950, as amended;
(g) under certain conditions, an alien beneficiary's residence outside the United States for more than 6 full consecutive calendar months;
(h) reduction of benefit amount to less than $1;
(i) investigation of entitlement pending;
(j) marriage of disabled-child or mother beneficiary to an old-age beneficiary under age 72 whose benefits are being withheld because of earnings from employment that exceed the amounts allowable by law;
(k) marriage of disabled child or mother beneficiary to a disability beneficiary whose benefits are being withheld pending determination of continuing disability or because of refusal to accept rehabilitation services;
(l) entitlement to a larger benefit based on another earnings record in situations that, under the law, do not give rise to a termination.

Contributions

The amounts, based on the percent of payroll or earnings specified in the law that must be paid (1) by employers and employees on earnings up to a statutory dollar maximum in employments covered under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (shown in tables 9 and 13 with refunds of employee overpayments deducted); (2) by the self-employed on earnings under the Self-Employment Contributions Act; and (3) by State and local government employees and their employing governmental units under voluntary agreements entered into under section 218 of the Social Security Act. Employers, including governmental units, withhold contributions from wages, add their equal contributions, and pay both currently. The self-employed pay their contributions with Federal income tax in the year following the year of the earnings.

Disability

Amount of benefit without disability freeze.—The amount that a benefit would have been if the disability freeze provision of the Social Security Act had not been in effect. See Disability freeze below.

Childhood disability allowance.—A determination that an applicant is disabled within the meaning of the law and has been continuously disabled since before he attained age 18.

Childhood disability award.—A favorable determination on an application for a disabled child's benefit after the applicant has been granted a childhood disability allowance. See Childhood disability allowance above.

Childhood disability denial.—A determination that an applicant for a disabled child's benefit is not disabled within the meaning of the law.

Determination of continuing disability.—A determination as to whether a person who has been under a disability within the meaning of the law is still under such a disability.

Diagnostic group.—Primary diagnoses, as grouped in the Manual of International Statistical Classification of Diseases, Injuries, and Causes of Death.

Disability.—The inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment that can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued and indefinite duration. In addition, for disability freeze purposes only, an applicant may be disabled within the meaning of the law if he is "blind" as defined in the law.

Disability freeze.—A period of disability may be established for a worker who is disabled within the meaning of the law and who meets the work requirements. Such a period may be disregarded in computing the benefits paid on the basis of the worker's earnings record.

Medical evidence.—Evidence from a doctor, a hospital, an agency, or an institution relating to an applicant's physical condition and medical history.

Medical standards for disability.—Standards, pertaining to an applicant's physical condition and medical history, used in determining whether the applicant is disabled within the meaning of the law for purposes of a disability freeze, disability (disabled-worker) insurance benefits, or disabled child's benefits.

Period of disability.—See Disability freeze above.

Primary diagnosis.—The principal disease or condition responsible for an applicant's disability.

Quarters-of-coverage requirements (applicable to data in this Supplement).—For applications filed before July 1, 1962, an individual could qualify for a disability freeze or for disability insurance benefits if he was fully insured and had 20 quarters of coverage out of the 40 calendar quarters ending with the quarter of disablement.

Recovery.—A person has recovered from his disability if his physical or mental condition has changed so that he no longer meets the medical standards for disability or has demonstrated, despite the severity of his impairment, an ability to engage in substantial gainful activity.

Rehabilitation services.—Services provided by State agencies in attempting to rehabilitate disabled workers vocationally.

Requirement of 6 months' continuous disability.—Except in cases involving second and subsequent disabilities, the law requires that a person must be disabled continuously for 6 months before he can qualify for a disability freeze or disability insurance benefits.

Substantial gainful activity.—Remunerative work that is substantial. In determining whether the work is substantial a number of factors are considered—the amount of the money earned, the number of hours worked per week, the type of work, etc.

Worker disability allowance.—A determination that an applicant is disabled within the meaning of the law and meets the quarters-of-coverage requirements for a disability freeze or disability insurance benefits.

Worker disability denial.—A determination that an applicant for a disability freeze or disability insurance benefits is not disabled within the meaning of the law or does not meet the quarters-of-coverage requirements.

Year of onset of disability.—The year in which an applicant first was under a disability, as established by the Social Security Administration, whether or not the person met at that time the quarters-of-coverage requirements for a disability freeze or disability insurance benefits.

Dual Entitlement

Entitlement of an individual to both an old-age or disability insurance benefit and to a larger wife's, husband's, widow's, widower's, or parent's benefit. The secondary benefit is reduced by the amount of the concurrent old-age or disability insurance benefit.

With respect to monthly benefits in current-payment status, from 1940 through 1948 a person receiving both old-age and secondary monthly benefits received two checks each month and was represented twice—under old-age benefits and under the appropriate secondary benefit for the reduced benefit. Beginning in 1949, a person whose secondary benefit was reduced to 99 cents or less received only one check each month for the combined amount and was represented only once—under old-age benefits. A person whose secondary benefit was reduced to $1 or more continued, until the end of 1954, to receive two checks each month and to be represented twice.

Beginning January 1955, a person with a benefit currently awarded, reinstated, or adjusted, who thereafter was receiving both an old-age and a widow's, widower's, or parent's benefit, regardless of the amount of the reduced secondary benefit, received only one check each month for the combined amount and was represented only once—under old-age benefits. By December 1955, the benefits for all such cases existing at the end of 1954 had been combined and all persons receiving both an old-age benefit and a reduced secondary survivor benefit were represented only once—under old-age benefits for the combined amount.

A person receiving both an old-age benefit and a reduced secondary life (wife's or husband's) benefit of $1 or more continued, until September 14, 1956, to be represented twice—under old-age benefits and under the appropriate secondary life benefit. Beginning September 14, 1956, a person with a benefit currently awarded, reinstated, or adjusted, who thereafter was receiving both an old-age and a wife's or husband's benefit, regardless of the amount of the reduced secondary benefit, received only one check each month for the combined amount and was represented only once—under old-age benefits for the combined amount. For such cases existing on September 13, 1956, only those benefits represented in adjustment or reinstatement actions on September 14, 1956, or later had been combined by the end of 1959.

Beginning with September 1958 entitlements and October 1958 awards, dual entitlements are possible involving a disability insurance benefit instead of an old-age benefit, and/or a disability secondary benefit instead of a life or survivor secondary benefit. The treatment of these cases is the same as that for other dual entitlements, except that, where one of the benefits is payable from the disability insurance trust fund and the other from the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund, the benefits are not combined.

With respect to monthly benefit awards, the procedure has been similar to that for monthly benefits in current-payment status. Thus, in simultaneous awards of an old-age or disability insurance benefit and a secondary benefit, the individual is represented in award data (a) twice if separate checks are payable—under old-age or disability insurance benefits and under the appropriate secondary benefit for the reduced amount—or (b) once if a combined check is payable—under old-age or disability insurance benefits for the combined amount. In cases involving an award of an old-age or disability insurance benefit subsequent to the award of a secondary benefit, the individual is always represented twice—under the secondary benefit for the secondary benefit amount and subsequently under old-age or disability insurance benefits for (a) the amount of the old-age or disability insurance benefit if separate checks are payable prospectively, or (b) the combined amount if only one check is payable prospectively. In cases involving an award of a secondary benefit subsequent to award of an old-age or disability insurance benefit the individual is represented originally under old-age or disability insurance benefits and again subsequently if separate checks are payable prospectively under the appropriate secondary benefit for the reduced amount.

Data on the amount of benefits paid have been adjusted to reflect the proper distribution by type of benefit.

Reduced secondary benefit.—Amount of auxiliary (secondary) benefit after reduction by the amount of the concurrent old-age or disability benefit.

Earnings

Earnings credits.—Reported wages and/or self-employment income up to the maximum creditable for a taxable year.

Self-employment income.—Net earnings, up to the maximum creditable for a taxable year, derived by an individual from self-employment covered by law, minus wage credits for the year, if any.

Wages.—Wages, as defined in the Social Security Act, up to the maximum creditable for a calendar year, paid by an employer to an employee for services rendered in covered employment.

Eligible Individual

An individual who meets all requirements for benefits except for the filing of a claim. See Entitlement below.

Employment

Services rendered by an employee and self-employment in a trade or business.

Covered employment.—All employment covered by law under old-age, survivors, and disability insurance. Almost every kind of employment providing wages or salaries or earnings from self-employment is covered under the program. In some covered occupations, employees and self-employed persons receive earnings credits only if certain conditions defined in title II of the Social Security Act are met. The larger groups affected by these conditions are (1) self-employed persons, especially self-employed farmers; (2) farm employees; (3) household workers; (4) employees of nonprofit organizations; (5) employees of State and local organizations; (6) ministers and members of religious orders; (7) persons in family employment; and (8) American citizens working abroad.

Noncovered employment.—The principal kinds of employment not covered are self-employment as a doctor of medicine and employment in a Federal job covered by a Federal retirement system.

Entitlement

The state or condition of meeting the applicable requirements for receipt of benefits, including the filing of a claim.

Initial.—(1) Entitlement to old-age or disability insurance benefits or entitlement to any supplementary benefits payable from the same trust fund and with the same month of entitlement as the old-age or disability benefits based on the same earnings record; (2) entitlement to a lump-sum death payment; (3) entitlement to survivor monthly benefits where there has been neither a previous entitlement to such benefits nor previous entitlement to a lump-sum death payment based on the same earnings record.

Subsequent.—(1) Entitlement to supplementary benefits as of a month subsequent to the month of entitlement to old-age or disability insurance benefits payable from the same trust fund and based on the same earnings record; (2) entitlement to survivor monthly benefits as of a month subsequent to entitlement to other survivor monthly benefits or a lump-sum death payment based on the same earnings record.

Insured Status

The state or condition of having the number of quarters of coverage sufficient to meet the eligibility requirements for old-age or disability insurance benefits or to permit the worker's dependents or survivors to establish eligibility for supplementary or survivor benefits in the event of his death, disability or retirement. See Quarters of Coverage below.

Currently insured.—To be currently insured a worker must have at least 6 quarters of coverage during the 13-quarter period ending with the earliest of the following: (1) the quarter in which insured status is determined, (2) the quarter in which he became entitled to old-age insurance benefits, or (3) for a disability insurance beneficiary, the quarter in which he most recently became entitled to disability insurance benefits; if any part of a quarter has been included in a period of disability, that quarter is not counted in the 13-quarter period unless it was a quarter of coverage.

Fully insured.—To be fully insured a worker must have at least 1 quarter of coverage (whenever acquired) for each year elapsing after 1950 (or, if later, the year in which he attained age 21) and before the earliest of the following: (1) the year in which insured status is determined or (2) for a woman, the year in which she attained age 62, and for a man, the year in which he attained age 65; if any part of a year has been included in a period of disability, that year is not counted as an elapsed year.

Insured in event of disability.—To be insured in the event of disability a worker must be fully insured and have at least 20 quarters of coverage during the 40-quarter period ending with the quarter in which insured status is determined; if any part of a quarter has been included in a period of disability, that quarter is not counted in the 40-quarter period unless it was a quarter of coverage.

Permanently insured.—To be permanently insured, a worker must have at least 40 quarters of coverage or, if less, at least the number of quarters of coverage that will be needed for fully insured status when the worker attains age 62 (female worker) or age 65 (male worker).

Payment Status

The state or condition of a beneficiary with respect to actual receipt of benefits—that is, whether his benefits are in current-payment status or withheld.

Quarters of Coverage

Calendar quarters in which a worker is paid $50 or more in wages for employment covered under the law (except wages for agricultural labor) or calendar quarters deemed to be quarters of coverage because the worker (1) was paid the maximum annual taxable earnings in a calendar year, (2) had self-employment net earnings of at least $400 in a taxable year, (3) met the conditions, defined by law, for acquiring a quarter of coverage through agricultural labor. No more than 4 quarters of coverage may be credited for any calendar year, and no quarter is credited after the quarter of death or for a quarter entirely included in a period of disability.

Source of Benefit Payments

OASI.—Benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance (OASI) parts of the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program are payable from the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund to old-age (retired-worker) beneficiaries and their dependents and to survivors of deceased workers.

DI.—Benefits under the disability insurance (DI) part of the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program are payable from the disability insurance trust fund to disability insurance (disabled-worker) beneficiaries and their dependents.

Trust Funds

Separate accounts in the United States Treasury in which is deposited the equivalent of taxes received under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, the Self-Employment Contributions Act, and section 218 of the Social Security Act. The deposits are used only for the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program. Funds not needed for current benefits and administrative expenses are invested in interest-bearing Federal securities, as required by law.

Disability insurance (DI).—The trust fund used for paying monthly benefits to disability insurance (disabled-worker) beneficiaries and their dependents.

Old-age and survivors insurance (OASI).—The trust fund used for paying benefits to old-age insurance (retired-worker) beneficiaries and their dependents and to survivors of deceased workers.

Worker

A person who has earnings credited for social security purposes on the basis of services in covered employment for wages or of covered self-employment. See also Insured status.

[1] Represents civilian noninstitutional population aged 14 and over in all States and the District of Columbia (Alaska and Hawaii excluded before 1960), and all members of the Armed Forces. Based on survey-week data from the Current Population Survey (Bureau of the Census and the Bureau of Labor Statistics). Coverage status is generally determined on the basis of the job with the greatest number of hours worked in the survey week.

[2] Includes persons in railroad employment and in the Armed Forces; beginning 1951, includes those electing coverage under the voluntary provisions and excludes those not electing coverage (see footnote 3).

[3] Persons for whom coverage is authorized by law on an elective (generally group) basis but for whom coverage had not yet been arranged—chiefly employees of State and local governments and of nonprofit organizations and certain ministers.

[4] Primarily physicians and other self-employed persons in nonagricultural industries, employees of nonprofit organizations, and ministers not eligible for coverage.

[5] Not available.

[1] Estimated; not adjusted to reflect effect of: (1) provisions that coordinate the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance and railroad retirement programs, and (2) wage credits for military service. Estimates are only partially adjusted to eliminate duplicate count of persons with taxable earnings reported on more than 1 account number; the effect of such duplication is substantially less significant for insured workers than for uninsured workers.

[2] Workers reported with first taxable earnings under program during specified year.

[3] Includes relatively slight duplication, for workers who reported earnings on more than 1 account.

[4] Total wages (including estimates of wages in excess of reported taxable wages) and reported self-employment net earnings.

[5] Annual taxable limit on wages from a single employer, or on self-employment income, was $3,000 through 1950, $3,600 for 1951–54, $4,200 for 1955–58, and $4,800 beginning 1959.

[6] Number of different employers filing tax reports under the program.

[1] To effect the benefit increases provided by the 1958 amendments, certain operations affecting statistical data on monthly benefits and lump sums awarded and monthly benefits terminated or in current-payment status were suspended for December 1958; figures on benefits awarded or terminated in December 1958 are therefore not available separately and are not included in data for 1958, but are included in data for 1959 and reflect the higher rates payable under the 1958 amendments; figures on benefits in current-payment status as of the end of December 1958 are not available, but the corresponding data as of the end of November 1958 are shown in their place.

[1] Since monthly benefits were first payable to dependents of disability insurance (disabled-worker) beneficiaries for the month of September 1958, the disabled-worker-only category for 1957 includes families with nonentitled dependents who could have been entitled to monthly benefits had the 1958 amendments been in effect. Average monthly benefits shown for 1957 are amounts payable after reduction for a workmen's compensation benefit or another Federal benefit for disability, other than compensation payable by the Veterans Administration for a service-connected disability.

[1] For Jan. 1937–June 1940, total appropriations were $141 million less than total tax collections (all administrative expenses for 1937–39 were paid from general funds); for July 1940–Dec. 1950, equals taxes collected; from Jan. 1951 to date equals amounts appropriated (estimated tax collections subsequently adjusted).

[2] For 1937–49 tax rate was 1 percent each from employers and employees on first $3,000 of wages; for 1950, 1½ percent each on first $3,000 of wages; for 1951–53, 1½ percent each (self-employed, 2¼ percent) on first $3,600; for 1954, 2 percent each (self-employed, 3 percent) on first $3,600; for 1955–58, 2 percent each (self-employed, 3 percent) on first $4,200; for 1959, 2½ percent each (self-employed, 3⅜ percent) on first $4,800; for 1960–61, 2¾ percent each (self-employed, 4⅛ percent) on first $4,800.

[3] Includes a relatively small but unknown amount of refunds paid to present or former State and local employees.

[4] State and local government employees and their employing governments, participating under voluntary agreements, pay contributions at the same rates and on the same wage bases as the wage tax on other employees and employers.

[5] Appropriated from general funds to meet cost of benefits with respect to certain World War II veterans.

[6] The purpose of the financial interchange provided by the Railroad Retirement Act, as amended, is to place the trust fund in the position in which it would have been had railroad employment always been covered employment for old-age and survivors insurance purposes. Payments to the trust fund from the railroad retirement account, indicated by positive figures, increase income and total assets; payments from the trust fund to the account, indicated by negative figures, increase expenditures and reduce total assets.

[7] Administrative expenses of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in connection with disability insurance operations are paid initially from the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund with subsequent reimbursement, plus interest, from the disability insurance trust fund for the allocated cost of those operations. See table 26.

[8] Less than $500,000.

[1] From 1937 to 1939, under the old-age reserve account, administrative expenses were paid from general funds. Under the 1939 amendments to the Social Security Act that established the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund beginning Jan. 1, 1940, administrative expenses became chargeable to the trust fund. Under the 1956 amendments, administrative expenses of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in connection with disability insurance are paid initially from the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund with subsequent reimbursement, plus interest, from the disability insurance trust fund for the allocated cost of those operations.

[1] Workers who had any wages reported for every calendar quarter or with the maximum annual taxable amount (per employer) in effect during the year. The maximum was $3,000 through 1950, $3,600 for 1951–54, $4,200 for 1955–58, and $4,800 beginning 1959. Beginning 1955, includes farm workers reported on annual basis with $400 or more in annual farm wages and other combinations of farm and nonfarm wage and salary employment.

[2] Not available.

[3] For all workers, medians represent combined earnings from wage and salary employment and self-employment. For all wage and salary workers and four-quarter wage and salary workers, medians represent wages and salaries only. Median wages in excess of the prevailing maximum, as shown for male four-quarter wage and salary workers in some years, reflect the estimated distribution of such workers by intervals of wages above the maximum.

[1] Workers employed in more than 1 State are counted in each State; workers with earnings in both wage and salary employment and self-employment are counted in each class of employment in a single State. National, State, and class totals represent unduplicated counts of workers.

[2] Annual taxable limit on wages from a single employer or on self-employment income was $4,200 in 1958.

[3] Fewer than 500 workers.

[4] Less than $500,000.

[5] Represents employment and earnings of U.S. citizens outside the listed States and groups by American employers and their foreign subsidiaries.

[1] Based on amounts of taxable earnings established in the records of the Social Security Administration from reports processed in periods appropriate to the reporting year and certified to the Department of the Treasury. Not adjusted for employee refunds arising from overpayment of taxes by multiemployer workers. Does not represent appropriations to the old-age and survivors insurance and disability insurance trust funds.

[2] Except for contributions of State and local governments (who report to the Social Security Administration) State or area represents, generally, location in which earnings were reported to Internal Revenue Service district offices; data do not, therefore, necessarily relate to location of employment.

[3] Contributions of employees and employers on wages paid mainly in 1961. Employee contributions based on 3 percent of wages up to $4,800; employer contributions based on 3 percent of wages up to $4,800 for each employee. Includes relatively small amounts based on wages reported for earlier periods, subject to prevailing taxable limit and tax rate.

[4] Based on annual self-employment earnings, mainly in 1960 and 1961, taxable up to $4,800, at the rate of 4½ percent. Includes relatively small amounts based on earnings in other periods, subject to prevailing taxable limit and tax rate.

[5] Interstate instrumentalities, American Samoa, the Canal Zone, and Guam.

[1] See table 20, footnote 1.

[2] All workers insured in event of disability are also fully insured. Disability protection ends at age 65 or on entitlement to an old-age benefit before age 65. These estimates therefore exclude all persons aged 65 and over and old-age beneficiaries aged 62–64. Beginning 1955, a worker with disability protection could have his insurance rights frozen during any period of disability. Monthly benefits were first payable to disabled workers aged 50–64 for July 1957, to their dependents for September 1958, and to disabled workers under age 50 and their dependents for November 1960.

[3] Persons currently insured before July 1940, or currently insured after August 1950 and before July 1954, are also fully insured.

[1] See table 20, footnote 1.

[2] See table 21, footnote 1. Because figures on benefits in current-payment status as of the beginning of 1959 are not available, the numbers eligible for old-age benefits and the percentages in current-payment status as of the beginning of December 1958 are shown.

[3] Because of the relatively large probable sampling error in the estimate of the number eligible, the percentage is not considered sufficiently reliable to be useful.

[1] See table 20, footnote 1.
[2] Female workers aged 62–64 who met the disability insured-status requirements at the beginning of each year 1957–62 and male workers aged 62–64 who met these requirements at the beginning of 1962 were also insured for old-age benefits and are included in the number eligible for old-age benefits. Therefore, disabled-worker beneficiaries aged 62–64 are included in the number of eligible workers in current-payment status.
[3] From November 1956 through July 1961, only female workers were eligible for benefits at ages 62–64.
[4] See table 21, footnote 1. Because figures on benefits in current-payment status as of the beginning of 1959 are not available, the number eligible for old-age benefits and the number and percentage in current-payment status as of the beginning of December 1958 are shown.

1961	1,361,505	1,368	1,345	50,311	495,687	812,794

[1] Awards for a given year include chiefly entitlements of that year and the preceding year; a few may involve entitlements of 2 or more years before the year of award. Extended lags between date of entitlement and date of award result mainly from delay in filing (a claim filed for benefits may be retroactive for 12 months before the month of filing).

[1] The average amount of benefits awarded was directly affected by the 1961 amendments, effective August 1961, that (1) raised the minimum primary insurance amount and the minimum sole survivor benefit from $33 to $40, (2) raised widow's, widower's, parent's (if only 1 parent is entitled) benefits from 75 percent to 82½ percent of the primary insurance amount, and (3) initiated actuarially reduced old-age and husband's benefits for men aged 62–64 at entitlement.

[2] Age on birthday in 1961.

[3] Less than 0.5 percent.

[1] See table 38, footnote 1.

[2] Old-age benefits payable to a retired worker aged 62–64 at entitlement are actuarially reduced by 5/9 of 1 percent for each month before attainment of age 65 for which benefits are drawn. Actuarially reduced benefits may be represented in all the amount-of-benefit intervals and account for all the cases in the $26.40–32.90 interval under the 1960 amendments and in the $32.00–39.90 interval under the 1961 amendments.

[3] For 1961 awards under the 1960 amendments, old-age benefit amounts smaller than $26.40 or larger than $123.00 are possible under certain conditions that are expected to occur rarely.

[4] Less than 0.5 percent.

[5] For 1961 awards under the 1961 amendments, old-age benefit amounts smaller than $32.00 or larger than $123.00 are possible under certain conditions that are expected to occur rarely.

[1] See table 38, footnote 1.

[2] Old-age benefits payable to a retired worker aged 62–64 at entitlement are actuarially reduced by 5/9 of 1 percent for each month before attainment of age 65 for which benefits are drawn. Actuarially reduced benefits may be represented in all the amount-of-benefit intervals and account for all the cases in the $26.40–32.90 interval under the 1960 amendments and in the $32.00–39.90 interval under the 1961 amendments.

[3] For 1961 awards under the 1960 amendments, old-age benefit amounts smaller than $26.40 or larger than $123.00 are possible under certain conditions that are expected to occur rarely.

[4] Less than 0.5 percent.

[5] For 1961 awards under the 1961 amendments, old-age benefit amounts smaller than $32.00 or larger than $123.00 are possible under certain conditions that are expected to occur rarely.

TABLE 41.—Old-age benefit awards: Number and percentage distribution of benefits awarded in 1961 to retired workers insured only under the liberalized insured-status provisions of the 1960 and 1961 amendments, [1] by starting date used in benefit computation and sex

Based on earnings after 1936	61,386	42	31,414	40	29,972	46

[1] The 1961 amendments to the Social Security Act liberalized the requirements for fully insured status so that, beginning August 1961, the individual needs 1 quarter of coverage for each calendar year after 1950 (or after the year in which he attains age 21, if later) and before the year in which he reaches age 65 (62 for women), dies, or becomes disabled, whichever event occurs first (but not less than 6 quarters of coverage or more than 40). A provision in the 1960 amendments, effective October 1960–July 1961, required 1 quarter of coverage for each 3 calendar quarters in the specified period. (Before October 1960, the law required 1 quarter of coverage for every 2 calendar quarters in the specified period.)

[1] See table 38, footnote 1.
[2] Age on birthday in 1961.
[3] Mexican included with white.
[4] Includes awards (delayed pending receipt of evidence) to disabled workers aged 65 or over at award, where the first month of entitlement to benefits preceded the month of attainment of age 65.
[5] Includes awards to wives aged 65 and over at award, where the first month of entitlement to benefits preceded the month of attainment of age 65.
[6] Since the benefit amounts for children of retired or disabled workers and children of deceased workers are based on different proportions of the primary insurance amount, the average monthly amounts for combined child's benefits are not meaningful.
[7] Includes awards (delayed pending receipt of evidence) to children aged 18 or over at award, where the first month of entitlement to benefits preceded the month of attainment of age 18.
[8] Dependent children whose disability began before age 18. In some cases a child's benefit is represented twice in the award data, first as an award to a child under age 18 at date of entitlement, and second as an award to a disabled child aged 18 or over.

[1] Old-age benefits payable to a retired worker aged 62–64 at entitlement are actuarially reduced by 5/9 of 1 percent for each month before attainment of age 65 for which benefits are drawn. Actuarially reduced benefits may be represented in all the amount-of-benefit intervals and account for all the cases in the $32.00–39.90 interval.

[2] For 1961, old-age benefit amounts smaller than $32.00 or larger than $123.00 are possible under certain conditions that are expected to occur rarely.

[3] For benefits based on earnings after 1936, $95.00 maximum possible, except under certain conditions that are expected to occur rarely.

[1] See table 21, footnote 1.

[2] Since monthly benefits were first payable to dependents of disability insurance (disabled-worker) beneficiaries for the month of September 1958, the disabled-worker-only category for 1957 includes families with nonentitled dependents who could have been entitled to monthly benefits had the 1958 amendments been in effect. Average monthly benefits shown for 1957 are amounts payable after reduction for a workmen's compensation benefit or another Federal benefit for disability, other than compensation payable by the Veterans Administration for a service-connected disability.

[1] Benefits payable to a person aged 62–64 at entitlement are actuarially reduced for each month before attainment of age 65 for which the benefit is drawn—(1) for an old-age beneficiary, by 5/9 of 1 percent, and (2) for a wife beneficiary without a child beneficiary in her care or a husband beneficiary, by 25/36 of 1 percent. Cases involving actuarial reduction may be represented in all the amount-of-benefit intervals for which values are shown and account for all the cases in the $32.00–39.90 interval.

[2] For 1961 old-age benefit amounts of less than $32.00 are possible under certain conditions that are expected to occur rarely.

[3] For 1961, for retired worker and aged wife, $47.00 minimum possible were there is actuarial reduction, $60.00 minimum possible where there is no actuarial reduction.

[4] Less than 0.05 percent.

[5] 0.6 percent at $52.00 minimum.

[6] 0.6 percent at $52.00 minimum.

[7] 0.5 percent at $52.00 minimum.

[8] $95.00 maximum possible, except under certain conditions that expected to occur rarely.

[9] For 1961, for retired-worker-only families, $123.00 maximum possib except under certain conditions that are expected to occur rarely.

[10] $142.50 maximum possible.

[11] For 1961, for retired worker and aged wife, $184.50 maximum possib except under certain conditions that are expected to occur rarely.

[12] $190.00 maximum possible.

[13] For 1961, for retired worker, young wife, and 1 child, $246.00 maximu possible, except under certain conditions that are expected to occur rare

[1] Based on benefit check address.

[2] Distribution by type of benefit and by State estimated. Supplementary benefits are paid to wives or dependent husbands aged 62 or over, wives under age 62 with child beneficiaries in their care, children under age 18, and disabled sons and daughters aged 18 or over (whose disability began before age 18) of old-age or disability insurance beneficiaries. Survivor benefits are paid to widows or dependent widowers aged 62 or over, children under age 18, disabled sons and daughters aged 18 or over whose disability began before age 18, widows or divorced wives with child beneficiaries in their care, and dependent parents aged 62 or over of deceased insured workers.

[3] Distribution by State based on 10-percent sample.

[4] Less than $500.

[1] Based on monthly benefit check address. All benefit payments were being withheld on Dec. 31, 1961, from beneficiaries living in the following countries in which conditions were such that there was no reasonable assurance that the payee would actually receive the check and be able to negotiate it: Albania, Bulgaria, China, Czechoslovakia, Germany (Russian zone), Hungary, North Korea, and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (including Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania).

[2] In addition, 90 benefits with a monthly amount of $5,544 were being paid temporarily under a limited-payment procedure to persons living in Hong Kong. The number and monthly amount by type of benefit were as follows: old-age, 31—$2,290; wife's, 17—$640; child's, 12—$638; widow's, 24—$1,605; mother's, 6—$371.

[3] Excludes American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, which are included in table 96.

[1] Before 1943, excludes Alaska and Hawaii; includes Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, beginning October 1950, under the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act and Guam, beginning July 1959, under the 1958 amendments. See also footnotes 3, 4 and 5.

[2] Program initiated October 1960 under the 1960 amendments.

[3] Includes as recipients the children and 1 parent or other adult relative in families in which the requirements of at least 1 such adult were considered in determining the amount of assistance. Beginning October 1950, Federal funds were available for payments to these adults under the 1950 amendments.

[4] Program initiated October 1950 under the 1950 amendments.

[5] Excludes Idaho, beginning September 1957, and Nebraska, September 1952–December 1953; data not available.

[2] Annual data represent December of the specified year.
[3] Program initiated October 1960 under the 1960 amendments.
[4] Program initiated October 1950 under the 1950 amendments.
[5] Excludes Idaho, beginning September 1957, and Nebraska, September 1952–December 1953; data not available.
[6] Beginning October 1950, total exceeds sum of columns because of inclusion of vendor payments for medical care from general assistance funds, from special medical funds, and, for 1 State for October 1950–June 1954, from funds for the special types of public assistance; data for such expenditures partly estimated for some States.

[1] Federal participation in vendor payments for medical care under programs except general assistance, which is financed entirely from State and local funds, was made possible beginning Oct. 1, 1950, by the Social Security Amendments of 1950. Since then there have been a number of changes in the method used to compute the Federal share of assistance. A 1957 change tended to depress the amount of vendor medical payments in 1957 and 1958.
[2] Based on cases receiving money payments, vendor payments for medical care, or both. Not computed for general assistance because of difference among States in policy or practice regarding use of general assistance funds to pay medical bills for recipients of the federally aided categories.
[3] Includes amounts used to pay medical bills for recipients of the federally aided categories.

[1] Includes recipients aged 60–64 for whom payments are made without Federal participation in Colorado.

[2] Program initiated in October 1960 under the Social Security Amendments of 1960.

[3] Includes as recipients the children and 1 parent or other adult relative in families in which the requirements of at least 1 such adult were considered in determining the amount of assistance.

[4] Includes recipients of payments made without Federal participation in California, Missouri, and Pennsylvania.

[5] Partly estimated; does not represent sum of State figures because totals exclude, for Indiana and New Jersey, estimated numbers of cases receiving medical care, hospitalization, and burial only. Excludes Idaho; data not available.

[6] Estimated.

[7] Includes unknown number of cases receiving medical care, hospitalization, and burial only.

[8] Includes cases receiving medical care only.
